EDUCATIONAL NOTES

PARENT-TEACHER ASSOCIATION IS DOING MUCH FOR THE GOOD OF EDUCATION

By Walt. Le Noir Church

To know what the Parent-Teacher association is doing for the betterment of education is a matter of importance, either for good or for its opposite. They certainly are DOING—not merely telling about what they hope to do. When they can't do much, in any given case, then they do the most they can till a better opportunity comes their way. I have yet to find a single person who does not highly commend their work.

They are doing much to lessen the lack of confidence felt by so many mothers in the teacher of their children. A certain type of mother (and who shall say it is not a good type?) just naturally hates to see any other woman have even temporary control over her child. She is likely to make such attitude very manifest on very slight provocation, or reason, from her own point of view. She did not understand the teacher and the teacher did not understand her. She, the mother, is positively certain that her Tommy is the dearest little chap in the world, with whom any teacher ought to get along well. But Tommy makes life a burden to the teacher, who could make affidavit that he is a living terror, from "Books" to "Dismissed." The mother would naturally take Tommy's part, whatever the merits of the case. Then arises the spirit of trouble, discord and dissatisfaction all along the line, to the great detriment of whatever education Tommy might be capable of taking.

But in the Parent-teacher association the opposing parties get together easily and, knowing one another personally, are rather surprised to find themselves rather good friends. Every principle of common prudence in business affairs (and education is no exception) shows that parents and teachers should know each other well; intimately, would not be too strong a term, considering the vital interests involved. Both those people are helping to build up the character of the child. If they harmonize, well and good. But suppose they disagree—then the child suffers in some way, as surely as water, left to its own laws of motion, naturally flows down hill, except when dominated by the seemingly conflicting law of capillary attraction which, according to a higher law, overcomes gravitation to a certain degree.

Thursday afternoon this week, March 1st, the Parent-Teacher association will meet at the Colorado Boulevard School. The principal, Miss Waite, says that most of the children will remain after 2 o'clock and entertain the P.-T. A. with an exhibition of their regular school activities in athletics and some other thing. The physical culture teacher of the Grammar Schools wlil be there to drill them in Indian club exercises, then take them to their tennis court, their handball and dodge ball games and to their track work, so the parents can see just what their little ones are accomplishing in the way of athletics. That school bas six grades, whose teachers are Miss Waite, Marie E. Schwarze, Lillian Eaton, Mary Circle, Ethel Chase and Edith Tipton, who is in charge of the playground activities.

Mrs. A. M. Beamon is president of the P.-T. A. club, containing over 100 parents. They help raise money when much needed, which is not available from ordinary school supply sources. They gave the children their tennis and other necessities for their advancement. Such help as this does more practical good to the children than a new set of books. In that school are about 250 pupils under the six teachers, besides the kindergarten under Carrie Ormsby and Ida M. Corey.

The entertainment by the little folks on Thursday afternoon is looked forward to with great interest by parents, teachers and pupils.

I understand the public is usually welcomed, and this will be a sight well worth seeing.

INSTALLS PIPE ORGAN

Mr. George B. Miller, a very talented and able musician well known among the music lovers of Glendale, is opening a studio at 1009½ West Broadway, where he has installed a small pipe organ for the benefit of his pupils. Mr. Miller gives instruction in voice, piano and pipe organ, and this gives his organ pupils a splendid opportunity for practice at small expense and great convenience. Mr. Miller will be glad to receive his pupils at his new studio, which will be open for appointments on Monday, Wednesday and Friday forenoons and on Saturday evenings.

CIVIC CENTER RULES

BOARD OF TRUSTEES FRAME REGULATIONS GOVERNING CENTRAL AVE. SCHOOL

The Parent-Teacher association of the Central avenue school has received from the Board of Trustees of the Glendale schools, regulations governing the use of the rooms as a civic and recreation center, that are given in full below.

Beginning Tuesday evening, February 27, the rooms will be open to the public from 7:30 to 10 p. m. on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday of each week for the present until further notice. The supervisors who have volunteered to serve upon request of the Parent-Teacher association are J. M. Ferrell, Tuesday, Mr. Morgan on Thursday, and J. B. Clarke on Saturday evenings. A special feature of the Saturday evening sessions will be community singing of patriotic and folk songs under good leadership, in the auditorium. It is desired that all who can sing, or ever hope to sing, will turn out and confer and receive benefits.

The regulations made by the school trustees governing the civic center follow:

Resolution

Whereas at the request of the Parent-Teacher association and other interested citizens of the Central Ave. School District, permission has been granted by the Board of Trustees of the Glendale City School District to said Parent-Teacher association to open and maintain a Civic Center at the school house in said Central Ave. School District.

And Whereas there is a reasonable difference of opinion among the residents of said Central Ave. School District as to what are proper forms of amusement, and it is the sentiment of the Board of Trustees that only such forms of amusement should be permitted in the Civic Center as will be acceptable to all residents of the District.

And Whereas Section 3 of Article 8 of Political Code of California prescribes as follows: "Said Board of Trustees or Board of Education shall make all needful rules and regulations for conducting said Civic Center meetings and for such recreational activities as are provided for in Section 1 of this act."

Now Be It Resolved that the following rules and regulations shall be and hereby are adopted for the government of said Civic Center to be established at the Central Ave. School building:

Rules and Regulations

1. The Civic Center shall at no time be kept open except when the regular supervisor or his duly authorized substitute is present and in charge of the building and grounds.
2. The supervisor when acting in his official capacity is the representative of the Board of Trustees and as such shall have the right to make all needful rules and regulations for the government of the Civic Center not inconsistent with the law or this resolution.
3. Any person having in his possession while on the school premises any intoxicating liquor shall be permanently excluded from all Civic Center privileges.
4. Smoking is forbidden at any time on the school premises. A breach of this rule may be punished by temporary or permanent exclusion from the Civic Center in the discretion of the supervisor.
5. Profane language is forbidden at any time on the school premises. A breach of this rule may be punished by temporary or permanent exclusion from the Civic Center in the discretion of the supervisor.
6. Dancing and card playing on the school premises are hereby forbidden.
7. The Board of Trustees reserve the right to pass upon any form of amusement proposed for the Civic Center and to amend or add to these rules.

CORWINS MEET WITH ACCIDENT

Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Corwin, who formerly resided at 419 North Central avenue, and moved to their ranch at Oxnard about three weeks ago, met with a serious automobile accident Saturday evening while on their way to Glendale to visit over Sunday with their daughter, Mrs. J. G. Dean. Their car skidded and turned turtle at Eagle Rock, Mr. Corwin having his collar bone broken and Mrs. Corwin had two ribs broken. They were attended by Dr. Eckles and Dr. Young of Glendale and Mr. Corwin was taken to the Thornycroft hospital while Mrs. Corwin is at the home of her daughter. Both are doing as well as could be expected.

WEATHER FORECAST—Fair tonight and Wednesday. Heavy frost Wednesday morning. Northwesterly winds.

WILSON REQUEST DIVIDES CONGRESS

PRESIDENT'S PLEA FOR AUTHORITY IN DEALING WITH INTERNATIONAL SITUATION CAUSES SPLIT

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—The House Foreign Committee split to-day on President Wilson's request for authority in the present international crisis, and failed to report out the flood bill giving the president the power he asks. Instead several members sought to inject amendments. These were sent to the president and the committee adjourned. It is expected the president will keep the committee informed of the developments in the Laconia case and urge them to reconsider the original resolution. The Senate Committee is also divided on the question of empowering the president to arm American ships.

REPORTS OF LACONIA SINKING CONFIRMED

CONSUL AT QUEENSTOWN CABLES STATE DEPARTMENT VESSEL TORPEDOED WITHOUT WARNING

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—Consul Frost at Queenstown has cabled the state department confirming the press accounts of the sinking of the Laconia. He said the vessel carried guns and was torpedoed without warning.

The Laconia, an 18,099 ton vessel, is the largest single victim of Germany's unrestricted submarine warfare. She left New York February 18 enroute to Liverpool and carried 5,000 sacks of U. S. mail. In her cargo were 40,000 bushels of wheat, 2000 cases of brass rifle cartridges, 2843 bales of cotton, 1408 cases of fruit, 1000 bars of silver and 900 tons of staple provisions all consigned to the British government. The Laconia was valued at $6,000,000 her cargo was worth more than $10,000,000 and with the express and mail matter she carried, the loss is estimated at $20,000,000.

LACONIA SINKING "OVERT ACT"

OFFICIALS CHARACTERIZE LATEST SUBMARINE DISASTER "CLEAR CUT CASE"—NO INVESTIGATION

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—The Laconia sinking, according to the highest official utterances, is a "clear cut case." No investigation is necessary after Consul Frost's report. The matter is in the hands of President Wilson. Although the term "overt act" was not used, the manner in which the situation is described left the impression that that term was in the minds of the officials.

AUSTIN HOY DEMANDS VENGEANCE

SON AND BROTHER OF AMERICAN WOMAN LOST WHEN LACONIA IS SUNK CABLES PRESIDENT

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LONDON, Feb. 27.—The Cunard line has issued the following bulletin: Laconia passengers dead, 3; missing, 3; crew missing, 6; in hospital, 6. Mrs. Mary Hoy and her daughter, Miss Elizabeth Hoy, Americans, perished in a life boat from exposure. Both were buried in the sea. Austin Hoy, son and brother of the dead woman, has cabled President Wilson, demanding vengeance, according to Consul Frost.

BIRTH CONTROL MEASURE

ASSEMBLYMAN HARRY WISHARD INTRODUCES BILL FOSTERED BY WOMEN'S CLUBS OF SOUTH

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 27.—Assemblyman Harry A. Wishard introduced a bill permitting the distribution of birth control literature on the authority of physicians. The bill is fostered by the Southern California Women's clubs and it is expected to cause a fight.

PROTECT NORTHERN HARBOR

MINES HAVE BEEN LAID OFF PORT TOWNSEND AND STEEL NET TO BE STRETCHED ACROSS PUGET SOUND

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

SEATTLE, Feb. 27.—It has been learned that mines to be operated from Fort Worden have been sown off Port Townsend and a steel net has been prepared for stretching across the entrance of Puget Sound in case of war.

AMERICANS MISSING

ACCORDING TO MOST AUTHENTIC REPORTS MEMBERS OF LACONIA CREW CAN NOT BE FOUND

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—Six of the twenty Americans listed in the Laconia crew are still missing according to the best figures available.

TRIO FAME TRAVELS

GLENDALE MUSICIANS WIN DESERVED RECOGNITION IN MANY PLACES

The Gade Trio, whose excellent music the patrons of the Palace Grand theatre have been enjoying for the past year, has been engaged to give hour concerts every Sunday evening at the Maryland, Huntington and Green hotels, alternating throughout the entire season. This is another evidence of the popularity and ability of this splendid trio, which is composed of Mrs. May Occutt Brooke, pianist; Frederick Grover, violinist, and Dr. Paul Wismer, cellist, all of whom Glendale is proud to claim as residents. Dr. Wismer is a brother of Hother Wismer of San Francisco, the well-known violinist, and Frederick Grover has been in great demand in other places for concerts and recitals. Last Sunday this trio played at the Municipal concert in Trinity auditorium, Los Angeles, and were greeted with much enthusiasm. They have played recently before the Ventura Woman's club, the Hollywood Woman's club, the Santa Monica Bay Woman's club, the Friday Morning club and the Riverside Musical club. This trio of first-class musicians has been a great aid to Manager Jensen in the success and popularity of the Palace Grand performances and few people realize while enjoying their harmonious accompaniment to these performances that their first view of the picture with which they are to harmoniously blend their music is when it is flashed upon the screen before the assembled audience. Many who have complimented their playing have not really guessed their skill in adapting their music to the performance. They have a daily rehearsal and it is by continual work that they keep up to their present high standard and have gained a reputation for proficiency in their art.

KNIGHTS TEMPLAR ANNUAL BALL

One of the most select and enjoyable affairs of the winter season is scheduled for Wednesday evening, when the officers and members of Glendale Commandery No. 53, Knights Templar, will give their second annual ball at Masonic Temple. About 250 invitations have been issued and it is expected that about 350 people will be in attendance and judging from the personnel of the various committees and the preparations being made, it will be one of the swellest affairs ever held in Glendale. The very best of music will be furnished for dancing and there will be card tables for those who prefer that pastime. The general committee is composed of Sir Charles L. Peckham, captain general; Sir Clem L. V. Moore, generalissmo; Sir David G. Crofton, Jr., senior warden. The chairmen of the other committees are:

Invitations—Eminent Sir, C. C. Rittenhouse, recorder.

Reception—Sir Otto J. Ehlers.

Printing—Sir Percy J. Priaulx, junior warden.

Music—Sir Claude O. Pulliam.

Purveying Committee—Sir A. H. Donecken.

Punch—Sir W. S. Rattray, sword bearer.

Floor Committee—Sir Thomas H. Rosenberger.

Cards—Sir C. W. Kimberly.

Decorations—Mrs. Charles L. Peckham.

NEW THOUGHT

At the New Thought Center Sunday morning Edward S. Jerome conducted the morning service. He gave this statement for meditation and the silence: "The power and strength of omniscience are established in me. I am free from every negative thought. I am master of the situation." His topic for the morning lesson was "Positive and Negative Forces." He said positive thinking is normal thinking. Positive statements are constructive. Negative statements are destructive, misdirected energy. Which way are you thinking? How are you using the God-given energy within yourself?

Mrs. Adeline Becker gave the evening lecture. "The True Balance" was her subject. In part she said: "The true balance is that something we unfold within ourselves. We must find the narrow path that runs through all the ways in everything in life. Each one must learn to stand alone on their own feet. You get nowhere by constantly depending on some one else to shape your life for you. You must be your own architect. Your happiness, your health, your prosperity are established if you are perfectly poised in God (Good). Serenely declare you are poised in the Absolute."

CONVENTION CONCERT

LOS ANGELES COUNTY CHORUS TO GIVE PRELIMINARY PROGRAM

Be sure to save Tuesday, March 13th.

The Pre-convention Concert is to be given Tuesday evening, March 13, at the Presbyterian Church, by the Los Angeles County Chorus under the able leadership of Porfessor Trobridge. This will be one of the best entertainments ever given in Glendale and will be well worth the effort to come. This chorus ranks among the best organizations of its kind in the southland and this concert is one of the good things that the Christian Endeavor Convention is bringing to Glendale.

No admission will be charged, but a silver offering will be taken, the chorus to get one-half to help defray their expenses of coming to Glendale, and the other half to go to the Convention Committee to help pay the expenses of the Convention, such as light, renting of the big tent, chairs, etc. Now, don't forget the date, March 13th.

MUSICAL PROGRAM

On Saturday afternoon, Mrs. Mattison B. Jones, pianiste, Mr. Julius Kranz, violinist, of Glendale, and Mrs. Mary Smith Cable, dramatic reader, of Los Angeles, but formerly of Glendale, presented a program before the Ebell club of Santa Ana. The program was in the nature of a purpose program, being devoted exclusively to American compositions. It was as follows:

I.—America's Tribute to Music—Mrs. Mattison B. Jones.

II.—Violin and Piano, Marteau Prize Sonata—Henry Schoenefeld.

III.—Reading, Joseph Clayton—Sarah Parry.

IV.—Violin: (a) To a Wild Rose, MacDowell-Hartman; (b) Up the Canyon, Cecil Burleigh; (c) Berceuse, Mrs. H. H. A. Beach.

V.—Reading, Higher Culture in Dixie, Anon.

VI.—Violin: (a) The Legend; (b) Berceuse; (c) Chanson Tarantelle—Julius Kranz.

VII.—Reading, Peace-Pipe from Hiawatha, Longfellow. (Musical setting.)

Each of these artists received a hearty reception and elicited much applause from the large audience. The original compositions of Mr. Kranz proved to be especially pleasing, and a great deal of interest was manifested in them.

YOUNG MUSICIAN IN RECITAL

Miss Marguerite Eckles, the ten-year old daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Eckles, gave a very pleasing recital at the home of her teacher, Mrs. Clifford H. Cunningham, 1025 Fairview avenue, Saturday afternoon. Mrs. Cunningham had cause to be proud of her young pupil for her creditable performance, and the little miss added a number not on the program by transposing a hymn, an unusual achievement for one of her years. A beautiful bouquet of flowers was presented to the young musician. She was assisted by Mary Young, who recently was awarded the Intermediate school prize for reciting, and six girls, Misses Hazel Waters, Ruth Palmer, Faith Tarling, Nellie Rowe, Martha Meyer, Naomi Platt, who gave two song numbers with Miss Evangeline Quackenbush at the piano. About forty were present and Mrs. Cunningham served punch and wafers at the conclusion of the program.

PALM CANYON BEAUTY SPOT

Mrs. Louise Purnell, Mrs. Mame Pollock, Miss Mabel Hutchings and Howard Bradley motored to Palm Canyon the first of last week for a three days' outing. Palm Canyon is one of the most beautiful canyons in Southern California, where the only native palms grow. In some parts there is a jungle of palms and in other places there are palms from 75 feet high to those just peeping through the ground. Mrs. Purnell was told to take plenty of water in the canyon, but found Palm Creek full of water and there will be water in this creek until June. Campers taking this trip will find plenty of fuel and water. The party witnessed a beautiful sight, resting in sunshine and seeing the snow falling on San Jacinto mountain close by. Mrs. Purnell will be pleased to give any information desired to anyone contemplating this most beautiful trip. Hot Springs will be found on the other side of the divide for anyone caring to walk that far.

THE WORKING SOLDIER

In time of peace it is well to prepare for a continuance of peace. War is unnecessary but defense is necessary. Defense is a preventive of war. It is not necessary for a ranchman to have his grain and vegetable fields trampled on by live stock running at large so long as these fields may be protected by well-built fences. It is not necessary to have our country invaded by people of other countries so long as we can provide means of defense. The question of how best to provide this defense is one that is agitating the minds of the people.

The old and present method of employing a standing army whose duty is only to be in training or in idleness is being superceded by the more modern method of employing men who will serve the government in doing forestry work, water protection work, making improvements on rivers and coasts and also spending a portion of the time in military training, fitting them to defend their country, should it become necessary for them to do so.

The plan presented and urged to be carried out under the supervision of the Government, by Geo. Maxwell, is based upon the principle of having all United States soldiers employed by the Government while not on actual military duty.

UNSIGNED COMMUNICATIONS

It has come to the knowledge of the management of the Evening News that persons who have sent in unsigned communications are very much displeased because these communications were not given space in the News. To persons who have sent to us such unsigned articles we have no apology to offer for not using them. It is fair that every publisher should at least know who is responsible for the possible insinuations and hidden accusations that are apt to be contained in an unsigned communication.

The name signed to a published article is similar in effect to a name signed to a promissory note—the standing of the person represented by the name counts for considerable. Usually a communication signed by a person who is known locally is read, when if the article is not signed, or if signed the signer is a stranger, it is not read.

ACTIVE ORGANIZATIONS

There are organizations whose sole purpose seems to be organization, and then there are organizations whose purpose it is to do things. It is so easy to talk and keep on talking about things that should be done. One suggestion after another is given and many of these suggestions are worth heeding, but nobody heeds them. Continued talk and continued suggestion without active work accomplishes nothing. Few words and much work is what stirs up things for better or worse.

The man who merely witnesses other partake of food without partaking of it himself gets no nourishment whatever. He must become active and give the organs of mastication, digestion and absorption a chance to perform their natural functions. Activity is a sign of life.

The city commission of Santa Monica unanimously passed today a drastic ordinance prohibiting dancing in cafes by guests, and prohibiting dancing in any building, room or hall where liquor is sold. Opponents of the measure plan to invoke the referendum before the bill becomes effective in 30 days.

PRESIDENT ONLY STUMBLING BLOCK

(By United Press.)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—President Wilson, leading suffragists declared to-day, is the only obstacle now to the passage of the Federal Suffrage Amendment.

That is why they are picketing the White House. That is why they will encircle it with a monster "Suffrage Rainbow" March 4th. That is why ten thousand voting women began arriving here from all over the country to-day for the big March 4th demonstration.

The suffragists are concentrating on Wilson; and they think they can feel him slipping.

"President Wilson," said Miss Alice Paul, Chairman of the Executive Committee of the Congressional Union, to-day, "is now the one great obstacle in our way. We are going to center our greatest efforts in gaining his support. We believe he is more and more inclining to the Federal Suffrage Amendment.

"We are going up to the White House and register our unwillingness to wait longer for the ballot. It's going to be a demonstration of protest—and an expression of confidence."

The colorful suffrage army assembles early in the afternoon in the "little White House," diagonally across from the Executive Mansion and directly opposite Lafayette Park. The doctors will be lined up in one squad, the lawyers in another, and so on. Each squad will be preceded by a standard bearer and a band.

Promptly at three o'clock a bugle will blow and the procession will start for the White House. It will be headed by Miss Vida Milholland, whose sister, Inez, led the suffragists in the suffrage parade at the inauguration ceremonies four years ago, and who died while campaigning for the Woman's Party last fall in California. Miss Milholland will be followed by Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont, of New York City, Mrs. Florence Bayard Hilles, of Delaware, Mrs. J. A. H. Hopkins, of New Jersey, and Miss Anne Martin, of Nevada. These women have been selected to present to the President the request of their unenfranchisd sisters in all parts of the country.

HOTEL FOR WOMEN OPENED IN CHICAGO

CHICAGO, Feb. 27.—The Mary Dawes hotel for women, the gift of Charles G. Dawes in honor of his mother, has been opened for business.

The hotel, modeled after the Dawes hotels for men in Boston and Chicago, is a $150,000 stone and brick building, with rooms for 250 guests. It is run on the same principle that the other Dawes philanthropic institutions are—that clean, wholesome hotel accommodations can be furnished at much less than the prevailing cost, if operated without profit, under scientific management.

Rooms rent for ten to thirty cents a day, and guests may be either permanent or transient. Each room has a window, rugs, lockers, mirrors, bed with an abundance of clean linen, and access to toilet and bath facilities. A cafeteria in the basement provides wholesome meals at cost. Breakfast may be secured for 5 to 6 cents, and dinner for 10 or 12 cents. Sewing rooms, a beautifully furnished lobby, and a complete laundry for the use of guests are provided.

Miss Frances Cowley is in charge of the newest Dawes hotel.

LONGFELLOW WAS BORN 110 YEARS AGO TO-DAY

PORTLAND, Me., Feb. 27.—One hundred and ten years ago to-day one of the world's best beloved poets was born in Portland. His name was Henry Wadsworth Longfellow.

The three story frame building at the corner of Fore and Hancock streets where he was born still stands and has been made an international memorial by the International Longfellow Society, which has been organized for that purpose.

STUDIES IN PERSONAL DEVELOPMENT

By Walt. Le Noir Church

STUDY XXII. GLENDALE DEVELOPMENT

A new suggestion as to Glendale's desirability was given by Mrs. Margaret Ranger, merchant at Broadway and Brand boulevard.

When seeking a place to locate a business of dry goods, notions and ladies furnishings, after visiting a number of California towns, she came to Glendale. Being charmed by its wide, clean streets and its general pleasant appearance as a city of homes, the thing which finally decided her to settle here was this: She said she saw more young married people and more children here in proportion to the number of families than in any other place she ever knew.

But what has that to do with her decision to locate in business here? Quite a bit—in fact, the moving cause. A good reason, too.

People with young children are not nearly so apt to do their shopping down in Los Angeles. Therefore they are more likely to be good customers for Glendale merchants. They are loyal to their town to a marked degree. This would not be such a good place for very wealthy patrons, who would more likely auto down to the city, or even run up to San Francisco, largely for lack of something to do. But people of moderate wealth are much more likely to patronize their home town merchants.

That was verified by what an elderly gentleman said: "I like Glendale for its quiet home life, its general wholesome conditions, and the further fact that it is so near to Los Angeles, I can go there in twenty minutes and visit the Library, or some entertainment, or get my favorite cigar."

"But why not patronize your home merchants?" I asked. "They are very convenient when you do not wish to go down town; and they could give better goods for the same money if people like you and your friends would do practically all your buying here. Have you no feeling of loyalty to Glendale, your home city?"

"Well, I don't know as I had thought of it from that point of view. So long as I get what I want, it does not make much difference to me whether I buy here or elsewhere. I suppose I had ought to patronize home trade. I would, too, if the merchants kept a larger assortment here. That dear old lady you spoke of had a mighty good idea. If most of the stores here were consolidated in some way, they could keep larger stocks at less cost to them. One good buyer would serve them all, with an assistant or two, and, buying in large quantities, could buy cheaper and so afford to sell cheaper. With a few assistants, one live cashier could run the finances of them all. Such association of merchants would greatly revive business here. Besides, they could afford to do so much more and better advertising in the local papers. Then advertising for one would be for all the association. The old lady was hitting mighty close to the truth. I would not mind taking a block of stock in such a mercantile association. Well managed, it ought to pay well." (Why will not some live promoter of industrials take up a proposition so important to so many people?)

Yesterday I made another trip to see the Los Angeles County Supervisors about the part of the returning exhibit sent by Los Angeles County to the San Diego Exposition. Glendale Chamber of Commerce put in an application on February 16th at the suggestion of the Supervisor of the Fifth District, Mr. Jonathan Dodge. The matter of disposing of that returned exhibit was referred to Supervisor Richard Norton, just returned from Sacramento. I interviewed him, telling him Glendale would make a part of that exhibit look very attractive and would display it to the best advantage, as much of it as could be apportioned here. That Glendale's Chamber of Commerce secretary was devoting his whole time to that work and the exhibit would be kept in fine order, set off by pictures and flowers, and made a credit to the city. Mr. Norton very courteously answered that the exhibit had not yet arrived, and that he will go to San Diego to see about it, and let us know as soon as possible just what part of it we could get; assuring us that under the conditions named, we might count on getting some of it. Mr. Dodge, also, is quite interested on Glendale's behalf and said he would do all he could to get all of that exhibit for Glendale that is possible under the circumstances. I explained to him fully that Glendale was prepared to do the best possible for whatever part of that exhibit shall come here. We can safely count on his assistance, it is believed.

Then with spacious quarters to display it in, by the laws of business, people in this section who have anything to exhibit could well afford to pay for the privilege of having space near such an exhibit, so the cost to the Glendale Chamber of Commerce might be reduced to the minimum, if not be entirely paid. It is well to consider what a prominent Glendale business man said to-day: "Glendale would quicker pay five hundred dollars for something good than fifty cents for something no good."

INFANT WELFARE MOVEMENT

The infant welfare movement aims not simply at the reduction of mortality, but at constructively raising the standards, in all matters affecting infant welfare. We are not fostering the unfit, whoever they may be, relatively to, or at the expense of, the fit, whoever they may be. We are seeking to lift certain great handicaps which have weighed down upon all child life. The same factors which force a certain number of babies below the level at which existence is possible, at the same time force vastly larger number of babies close to the margin. They may keep a slight balance on the credit side of the account, but are obliged to begin life practically bankrupt in vitality and energy, and with marks and scars which may be permanent.—Homer Folks.

When we can do nothing else with our burden of sorrow, it is always possible to try to keep its shadow from falling on others. The heart is no heavier because the lips learn to smile above it, and the manner to show sympathy with the joy of others.—Ex.

"Happy workers and not discontented idlers, should be found in the great majority, among our boys and girls who graduate from our elementary schools and are ready to take their places with the grown-ups in their home community, if they are skillfully led to know of the absorbing happiness that may be found in work."

"Who's in that room?"

"My cousin Bill. He said he was going in there for a good smoke."

"Well, he won't get one with that cigar."

To use the time, the thought, the strength which properly belongs to the duties of today in mourning over the past, is no more honest than to attempt to pay one's debts by using money that belongs to another.—Ex.

A new use has been found for undersized citrus fruit by D. A. Field, manager of the Ontario-Cucamonga Fruit Exchange, who recently shipped a carload to an eastern candy company which is going to convert the dwarf fruit into chocolate-dipped fruit candy. The process is said to be a new one, worked out by the company's chemists in recent months. They have developed a method by which they can crystallize the fruit to such an extent that the juices of the separated orange segments will run after they have been dipped in chocolate.

The Riverside cement plant will add a potash factory to turn out $1000 worth a day from former dust waste. Another cement factory is planned for Coachella valley.

"You must get a lot of joy out of your daughter's voice. It's so sweet."

"Yes," but it always seems sweetest to me when it's floating out of the kitchen over a pan full of dishes."

THINGS TO WORRY ABOUT

The Missouri river contains 879,367,523,000 tons of mud.

The California Viticultural Commission has been granted an appropriation by the state of $10,000 to fight pests with.

Branch factories of the big Heinz food company are to be built at San Leandro and Oakland.

SUFFS DISCUSS WAR AID POLICY

(By United Press.)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—Prior to the White House demonstration the Congressional Union and The National Woman's Party will hold conventions at the national headquarters of the Union here, beginning day after to-morrow.

Two important subjects are to be considered by the delegates—the advisability of framing a war time policy for suffragists and the proposal that has been made to combine the voting and non-voting women of the country into one big political organization by a merger of the Union and the Woman's Party.

COLORADO P.-T. A.

The regular business meeting of the Colorado boulevard Parent-Teacher association will be held Thursday afternoon, March 1, at 2:30. There will be no parliamentary drill. There is to be an athletic program on the school grounds, beginning at 3 sharp. Punch and wafers will be served. All those interested invited.

A monster mass meeting will be held this Wednesday evening at the Shrine auditorium, Los Angeles, under the auspices of the American Society for National Service. About every representative body in California has been invited and among the organizations which have asked for reservations in the auditorium are the Grand Army of the Republic, the Monterey Training Camp association, chambers of commerce of several cities and many civic bodies of Los Angeles.

Doing a little better than one needs to do often makes all the difference between failure and success.

Personals

Born: To Dr. and Mrs. F. N. Arnold of 432 Orange street, Thursday, February 22, 1917, a son.

A. N. Fargo and family of Los Angeles are moving to-day to 1420 Loraine street, Glendale.

The Pythian Sisters Thimble club will meet Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Alma Minter in Glendale.

We will pay 10 cents for the first copy of the Glendale Evening News of September 30, 1916, brought to this office.

Miss Jane Morgan of Adams street has just secured a position in the Den O' Sweets Confectionery at 1009 W. Broadway.

Pearl Jones, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Jones of 118 West Third street, has been ill the past two weeks and is still confined to her bed, though improving gradually.

Mrs. A. W. Tower of 743 South Adams street attended the regular monthly meeting of the Southern California Alumni Association of Alpha Phi, held at the home of Mrs. S. C. Newman of Union avenue, Los Angeles, Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. I. E. Gould and family of 611 South Central avenue attended a surprise party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Clark in Huntington Park Monday evening, given in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Wilson of Marion, Iowa.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lynch of 907 Damasco court are entertaining at dinner this evening Mr. and Mrs. H. Hoyt Stevens of Colorado Springs, Colo., Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Dwight Wood, Miss Dorothy Wood and Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Sherman Wood. The Stevens are cousins of Mrs. Lynch and are spending the winter in Los Angeles.

On Saturday afternoon the young men of the Epworth League of the Tropico M. E. church will get busy on the playground they are to install between the League room and church and will weed the lot, roll and grade it. The girls of the League will furnish refreshments and lights will be installed so the men can continue their work in the evening.

Twin City Lodge, K. of P., will give their annual vaudeville and minstrel show at K. of P. hall, Brand boulevard and Park avenue, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings. Special scenery and electrical effects have been installed and the knights have been busy on their program, which promises some exceptionally good and novel specialties. A comic skit by local talent will close the performance.

The Epworth League of the Tropico M. E. church have sent out about 500 invitations for a novel and interesting performance to be given at G. A. R. hall on Thursday evening, March 15. About thirty people will pose as pictures in Jerusha Dow's family album and a real old-fashioned group they will be. The Epworth League of the Tropico church is a live, wideawake bunch and they always make a success of whatever they plan.

Mrs. G. Phillips and Miss Eva Daniels were hostesses at a dinner party given in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Nate Desky of Colorado Sunday at their home, 1424 West Colorado street. Besides the honorees cards were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Salo Desky, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. E. Daniels, Mr. Victor W. Daniels, Mr. Harold W. Phillips, Miss Helen Daniels, Miss Reba Phillips, and the hostesses. The decorations were peach blossoms, and music was enjoyed during the evening.

The Yeoman's Lodge of Tropico gave their usual enjoyable monthly dance at Yeoman's hall on Friday evening. With good music and a good crowd everyone had a good time. The lodge is planning an indoor carnival for Wednesday and Thursday evenings, March 7 and 8 at Yeoman's hall. The carnival will be held in the banquet room and there will be dancing in the big hall. The committee having the affair in charge is composed of Harry Schaeffer, Herbert Crane and Ed. Shipman.

An error was made in initials in yesterday's personal column, Mrs. Chas. L. Evans of 323 South Orange street and not Mrs. W. E. Evans as stated, entertaining a number of friends informally on Friday afternoon, when a few delightful hours were spent by the following ladies: Mesdames H. H. Faries, V. Price Brown, C. O. Pulliam, John Allen Legge, S. H. Cassell, A. D. Cross, R. J. Morrell, Oliver L. Clark, Howard Martin and Charles H. Temple and Miss Pulliam.

Miss Olive Farrow celebrated her tenth birthday recently with a pretty party at the home of her parents, Dr. and Mrs. C. G. Farrow of 1314 Doran street, ten of her little school and Sunday school classmates being present to help her celebrate the event. The afternoon was spent in games and in the game of spinning the hatchet in the cherry tree the prize was won by Bernadine Boyd and the booby prize was awarded Vanita Bronus. Dainty refreshments were served, the favors and decorations being suggestive of both Valentine day and Washington's birthday, and each child had an individual birthday cake. Little Miss Olive received many nice gifts and her friends are hoping for another birthday soon.

The district convention of the Pythian Sisters was held in Long Beach Monday and a number of members of La Halla Temple went down for the day. All of the work of the lodge was put on and the Long Beach Temple served a cafeteria luncheon to the visiting Sisters. Among those who attended from here were Mrs. Dora Howe, Mrs. Margaret Coleman, Mrs. Alma Dutton, Mrs. Susie Peck, Mrs. Augusta Anderson, Mrs. Florence Cook, Miss Blanche Shea, Mrs. Alma Minter and Mrs. Tina Hammond.

ENTERTAIN AT DANCING PARTY

Kenneth Beldin and John Sharpe were hosts at a jolly dancing party at the studio of Pearl Keller in Tropico, Saturday evening. The patter of raindrops proved a cheerful accompaniment to the music, and despite the moisture outside, the punch was rapidly demolished. At a late hour the guests reluctantly departed.

Those present were the Misses Harriett Barnes, Eloise Seaman, Lila Shea, Evangeline Hunchberger, Katherine Renshaw, Catherine Phillips, Nettie Werve and Marjorie Imler; also Irving Westwood, Walter Beach, Milton Brown, Seymore Smith, Fred Dodge, William Renshaw and the hosts. Mrs. Phillips and Mrs. Cook acted as patronesses.

FORD AGENCY IMPROVES SERVICE

Jesse E. Smith, distributor for Ford cars, has just secured Mr. James Talford, late manager of the service department of the Portland, Ore., Ford Branch, to take charge of the local agency Mr. Talford has had years of experience with Ford cars and is eminently qualified to give Ford owners of this vicinity expert service.

In order to care for their rapidly increasing accessory business the local Ford agency has altered their salesroom so as to connect with the store room adjacent, recently occupied by the Conrad Vulcanizing Works, which will be used solely for a stock room for accessories, tires, etc.

THE KEY TO THE FAR EAST

Mr. Cameron Johnson, noted traveler and lecturer, will give an illustrated lecture on "The Key to the Far East," under the auspices of the Young Women's Missionary Society of the Presbyterian church, on Thursday, March 8th, at 8 o'clock. Mr. Johnson will use 150 beautiful pictures, which he has taken and colored himself. Mr. Claude N. Bennett, Manager Congressional Information Bureau, Washington, D. C., says of his pictures: "The variety and comprehensiveness of the views are wonderful; their coloring most natural and pleasing." Put the date down on your calendar and do not miss seeing and hearing Mr. Johnson on the 8th of March.

THURSDAY AFTERNOON CLUB

The Thursday Afternoon club, instead of the usual afternoon meeting Thursday, will hold an open meeting in the evening for the members and their husbands and friends. The entertainment for the evening will be in charge of the civic, hospitality and program committees, including Mrs. Ella W. Richardson, Mrs. Geo. Gray Henry and Mrs. Edward Virden. The speaker of the evening will be Mrs. W. A. Galentine of Redondo, chairman of civics of the District Federation. Miss Melicent Virden, pianist, Miss Lenora Allen, soloist, and Miss Ruth Virden, violinist, will contribute to the program. Following the program a social hour will be enjoyed and refreshments will be served.

MRS. THAYER TO SPEAK

Mrs. Mary Gridley-Braly, regent of General Richard Gridley Chapter, D. A. R., has received word that Mrs. Maynard Force Thayer, ex-state regent, will address the chapter at the home of Mrs. S. C. Leppelman, 1457 Milford street, Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Thayer will speak on some patriotic theme and she will no doubt be greeted by a large number of ladies. Members of the chapter and those anticipating joining are urged to come and hear this talented speaker.

MORELAND TRUCK CO.

Rumor says that the Moreland Truck Company, now doing business at 1701 N. Main street, Los Angeles, will locate in Burbank. The City of Alhambra made a strong effort to get the Moreland Co. to move to their city, but if reports are true our neighbor city Burbank has had the good luck to land this enterprising plant.

FACTS IN THE CASE

"The case is like this," said the man who was looking for justice. "The plaintiff will swear that I assaulted him and I will swear that I didn't. Now what can you lawyers make out of that, I'd like to know?"

"About $50 apiece, I should think," replied the limb of the law.

One of the most beautiful words in any language is the word truth, and whenever we have had occasion to think of it at all, it has been associated in our minds with such sister words as freedom and love. We have always found it something greatly to be desired in human experiences—the truth about anything immediately destroying everything that is false. We want the truth about men, about ourselves; and every one, whether he knows it or not, wants the truth about God.—C. S. Sentinel.

THE WISE REPORTER

The electric fire alarm was turned in and a few minutes later the Central fire company arrived, and at that time smoke was issuing from all the doors and windows. This was conclusive that the interior of the structure was ablaze.—Morrison (Ill.) Sentinel.

POOR OLD PAW

Willie—Paw?

Paw—What is it, my son?

Willie—If Finland declares war, will it be a finish fight?

Paw—You get to bed, young man.

VIGILANCE REQUIRED

"All things come to him who waits, you know," he said, yawning.

"Yes," replied his wife; "but they don't always break in and wake him up."—Boston Transcript.

"Do you think the world owes you a living?"

"Yes. But the world's like a bank. You've got to go to some trouble to get yourself identified as the person to whom the living is due."

The man who advertises gets a reputation of being a live and progressive man, and it does not take long for the people of his home town to become acquainted with him and his line of business. He is referred to as a man who is interested in the growth and prosperity of the town. An advertising man is always a live wire. SUNDAY LEGISLATION

In view of the present agitation in favor of a State Sunday law, to be introduced into the Legislature at its coming session, it may be of interest to the public to know the history of Sunday legislation in California.

In 1855 a law was enacted prohibiting "all barbarous and noisy amusements on the Christian Sabbath." In 1858 another law was enacted forbidding the opening of stores, workshops or business houses, and the sale of all goods on "The Christian Sabbath." A test case was carried to the State supreme court, and this law was declared unconstitutional.

In 1861 a similar law was enacted, and the personnel of the supreme court having changed, a decision was obtained declairing the act constitutional. This law remained a dead letter for many years.

In 1880 a law was passed prohibiting the baking of bread from 6 p. m. Saturday to 6 p. m. Sunday. The supreme court held this to be unconstitutional because it was "class legislation."

In 1882 the Sunday law question was made a political issue, the Republican party favoring it, and the Democratic party opposing it. The people elected a Democratic governor and the legislature of 1883 repealed the Sunday law among its earliest acts.

In 1893 an effort was made to obtain a Sunday law, but it was so amended as to become a law requiring all employers to allow their employees to rest one day in seven, without specifying any particular day. This measure was opposed by Sunday law advocates, because it did not enforce the observance of the day they esteemed to be holy. This law still remains on the statute books, and is broad enough to cover the cases of all who do not desire their particular religious rest day enforced upon those who differ from them.

The present agitation in favor of any kind of a Sunday rest law is unnecessary, because the law already provides that all who desire to rest on Sunday must be permitted to do so. It is hard to see what more they could want, unless they wish to compel those who do not desire to rest on Sunday to do so against their will. It certainly would not be very conducive of real rest, and a peaceful frame of mind, to be forced to maintain an exterior attitude of rest which would be in reality about the hardest kind of work one ever did.

After repeated unavailing efforts to induce the legislature to pass a Sunday rest law, the initiative was invoked on behalf of Sunday rest enforcement in 1914, with the result that the proposed measure was defeated by a majority of 161,000.

Any kind of Sunday legislation is unconstitutional before the supreme law of the Nation, which says in the fourteenth amendment to the United States Consitution: "No State shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States; nor shall any State deprive any person of life, liberty, or property without due process of law, nor deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the law."

Now suppose a grocers' or barbers' will should be enacted which would close stores or barber shops or both on Sunday. Even though it might permit those who observe some other day of the week to keep their places of business open, what would be the inevitable outcome? Simply this: They could keep their places open to be sure, but there would be but little use, for no one except a very few who also observe some other day than Sunday would be allowed to patronize them on Sunday. The law might seem to protect the observers of another day, but it could not give them the "equal protection" demanded by the United States Constitution.

If the law should go so far as to grant Sunday observers the permission to patronize on Sunday the places kept open by observers of another day, they would get so much business on Sunday that the places forced to close on Sunday would feel they were being discriminated against. Any kind of a Sunday law would feel they were being discriminated against. Any kind of a Sunday law would deny to somebody the "equal protection of the law."

Any law which makes any act a crime merely because that act is performed on a certain day of the week is an unjust law. If buying a loaf of bread, or getting shaved is wrong on Sunday, it is wrong on every day of the week. Wrong is wrong because it is inherently wrong in the eyes of the civil law, without reference to the day on which it is done.

The only possible reason why any person can esteem any act to be more wrong on Sunday than on any other day, is a religious reason, for Sunday observance is a time-honored religious custom. No one would ever have thought of observing Sunday or any other particular day of the week if it had not been for religion, but religion and religious observances are not within the sphere of human legislation in this State and Nation, for the first amendment to the United States Constitution says: "Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof." The California State Constitution agrees exactly with the Federal Constitution on this point. No State can enforce any particular day of the week as a day of rest without discrimination in favor of or against some class of citizens.

GEORGE A. SNYDER.

COPPER DEPOSITS AT BLACK MOUNTAIN

Like a story of the old time bonanza days comes the startling news that "Black Mountain," over in the Gray Mountain district, about 27 miles southeast of Lancaster, contains one of the richest, if not the richest, deposits of copper, gold and silver ore that has been discovered in the southwest since the days of '49. Mr. J. L. Watts, an experienced and practical mining man, while standing one day about a mile distant from what is known as "Black Mountain," after making a keen survey of the distant hill, suddenly exclaimed: "There is a mountain of copper!" and immediately set out to verify his opinion.

Upon arriving at the Butte, which is about one mile in length by one-half mile wide, and in height about 600 feet, Mr. Watts investigated for a short time after which he staked three claims, along the side and top of the hill, and later on he staked five more claims. He had found what he had fully expected, a vast mountain of high grade copper ore, no doubt the largest deposit discovered in years anywhere in North America. This happened about four months ago, and since then Mr. Watts has opened some 20 odd holes, ranging the full length of the mountain and from bottom to top on both sides, and in each opening the same ore was in evidence in less than three feet from the surface, and in many places only one foot down.

The discoverer has had a number of assays made, one from a sample taken less than two feet from the surface, which showed $7 in gold per ton, $3 silver and 7 per cent copper. Later assays from five feet down shows a much better value in all three metals, the last one made was from ore taken only about six feet down which assayed 69.7 per cent copper, $45 per ton gold and $15 in silver. Later developments show very rich ore in all three of the above metals. The ore is gaining in value rapidly as they go deeper, and is practically certain that an extremely high grade deposit will be found at a depth of 20 feet.

That it is not only the largest, but also the richest deposit of copper ore ever discovered in the world, is the expressed belief of all practical miners who have inspected it. An offer of $200,000 for a one-half interest in the prospect was made to Mr. Watts a short time ago but was promptly turned down.

The discovery of this practically unprecedented deposit of precious metals has occasioned no little excitement in the vicinity wherein it lies, as well as from outside districts, many visitors coming to view this wonderful mountain daily, and just to what extent the effect of the find will have upon Victor and Antelope valleys and, in fact the country for miles around, is hard to say at this time, but it is an absolute certainty that the opening up of this great bonanza, if it continues in richness as it has started, will give employment to many hundreds of men, a thriving town will spring up within the next few months, a railroad will be built to the mine, and, last but not least, a smelter will be installed, and in fact an impetus will be given to a vast amount of adjacent country that will be the means of bringing thousands upon thousands of dollars into this section that will be used for the improvement of ranches, roads, etc., and will make the Black Mountain copper mine district famous the world over.

Mr. Watts has at present a small force of men taking out ore which will have to be transported to Victorville, the nearest railroad shipping point, 24 miles distant, by team or auto truck until a railroad shall be built.—Lancaster Gazette.

PRESENT BLESSINGS

Get what joy and goodness you can out of today. Why should you destroy present happiness by a distant misery which may perhaps never come at all or you may never live to see? For every substantial grief has twenty shadows, and most of them are shadows of your own making.—Sydney Smith.

SCIENTIFIC FACT

"Does love make the world go round, Professor Diggs?"

"Certainly not, young woman. The earth acquired its rotary motion millions of years ago while in a nebulous state and from causes quite beyond the sphere of human influence."

QUITE A RESEMBLANCE

"Didn't you have a brother in this course last year?"

"No, sir; it was I. I'm taking it over again."

"An Extraordinary resemblance, though. Positively extraordinary!" Harvard Lampoon.

HERE FIRST

Willie was boasting about his family.

"Our folks came over in the Mayflower," he declared, proudly.

"Huh! That's nothing," said Bob. "I guess they stayed with our folks the first nigth after they landed."

OIL AND GAS ON RESERVATION

The widespread interest in the development of the oil and gas resources of the country gives a forthcoming report on a Montana area special value to oil prospectors in that State.

A report on the Blackfeet Indian Reservation just issued by the Geological Survey of the Department of the Interior as a result of field work first undertaken for the Office of Indian Affairs describes the geology of the southward extension of the Calgary field of Alberta, Canada. The reservation is underlain by the same formations that have yielded small quantities of oil and gas in the Calgary field. The report points out the general similarity of the two regions and discusses the geologic facts upon which an intelligent search for oil and gas in the reservation must be based. To this end it describes in detail about thirteen anticlines and structural terraces, points out favorable or unfavorable features in each, and indicates the most advantageous places for drilling and the depths at which the possibly productive sands may be reached.

The sandstones in the lower part of the Colorado shale and the underlying Kootenai formation are believed to be the only sources of oil and gas in this region. Although there are no known surface indications of oil and gas within the reservation, recent discoveries have demonstrated the presence of petroleum and petroleum residues in the lower part of the Colorado shale in an area adjoining the reservation on the south. There it was found that a body of shale about 50 feet thick, in the lower part of Colorado, is petroliferous over a considerable area. Small samples of this shale yielded on distillation about 2 gallons of oil to the ton, and thin beds of limestone intercalated in the shale are impregnated with a soft tarry bitumen. These facts, together with the known occurrence of oil and gas in the Colorado shale in Alberta and of seeps from the same shale in northern Montana, lead to the belief that oil and gas may occur in some of the areas of most favorable structure in the Blackfeet Indian Reservation. Eugene Stebinger, the author of the report, believes that the chances for success in the reservation are sufficient to warrant careful and systematic drilling.

Copies of this report (Bulletin 641-J, Anticlines in the Blackfeet Indian Reservation, Montana) may be obtained free by applying to the Director of the United States Geological Survey, Washington, D. C.

SUBSTITUTE RICE FOR POTATOES

With polished rice selling at from three to four cents a pound, with potatoes sky high and sure to go higher, and with one pound of rice equivalent, in food value, to six pounds of potatoes, there appears to be a solution, in part, to the problem of high cost of living by a liberal use of rice as an article of food.

Rice culture in California promises to be one of the biggest industries. Every housekeeper can help to make it so by calling for California rice. Thus, at one and the same time, she cuts down living costs and assists one of the state's industries.

Rice, properly cooked, is an ideal food. More than any other, it contains the elements that make for nourishment and strength. With half the population of the globe, it is the principal food, and it takes the place of other cereals with two-fifths of the world's people.

California women can aid themselves, their families, their pocketbooks and a growing industry by serving rice, California rice, in one of its many palatable forms daily.—Ex.

IMITATING SHEEP

We laugh at sheep because they follow the leader even when it tumbles over a precipice.

As copy cats we humans out-sheep the sheep, and if a ram could laugh his sides would split at the way we copy each other. You remember only a few years ago when everybody was leading "the strenuous life."

Soon after Colonel Roosevelt made all of us say that, somebody else advocated the "simple life," and then all of us chased that bellwether.

Was ever a word more overworked than "efficiency?" Everybody caught it. However, it "took" no harder than "safety first."

Fiction writers love to follow the leader. Hence, nobody now turns pale in a novel. "He went white." Just at present all heroines have "amber" eyes. Recently they all possessed "svelt" figures, whatever figure that may be.

President Wilson has made "forward looking" men an extremely popular type. For thousands of years nobody battled at Armageddon until the colonel just recently a la Cook's tours, led the world back there again, and now we refuse to make a stand at any other place.

I repeat, the only reason the sheep doesn't laugh at us is because he can't.—Philadelphia Ledger.

The morning walk for health and cheer is valuable—if we do not take our worries with us. Find the darkest brain closet you possess, and resolutely shut all nagging troubles in its farthest corner. Then go out ready to notice the beauty of the sky, the song of the birds, the charm of the landscape, and free to enjoy the people you meet, and the walk will bring to you new life and courage.—Ex.

YES, LAUGH AT YOURSELF

Laughter is a mark of intelligence only when one is able to laugh at himself, to smile with others at his own awkwardness, whims, shortcomings and personal peculiarities, remarks the New York Tribune. One needs a certain amount of wisdom in order to know when he is making himself ridiculous. He must be big enough and wise enough to put himself in another's place and see himself as others see him. It is then that laughter serves the purpose of a corrective and a means of self-discipline.

But this requires a certain breadth of vision which not everyone possesses. Lincoln had it, and with all the sadness and tragedy of his life this ability to laugh at himself kept him sweet and human, saved his wit from irony and cynicism, and enabled him to laugh, not at people but with them. It is this trait of quaint self-ridicule and aloofness from that petty sense of dignity which spurns self-criticism which constitutes the true sense of humor. All the great humorists, from Aristophanes to Mark Twain, have had it. Half the fun of life must be enjoyed at one's own expense.

A man may be dead in earnest in his devotion to some great cause, as was Lincoln, yet keep his faith in himself and his ideals. It is this sense of humor which preserves balance and saves a man from bigotry and fanaticism. For want of it among good people and reformers many a noble cause has failed and many a moral ideal has been renderel almost unendurable.

THOMAS JEFFERSON'S TEN RULES OF LIFE

1. Never put off till tomorrow what you can do today.
2. Never spend your money before you can have it.
3. Never trouble others for what you can do yourself.
4. Never buy what you do not want because it is cheap.
5. Remember that pride costs us more than hunger, thirst or cold.
6. One never repents of having eaten too little.
7. Nothing is ever troublesome that we do willingly.
8. The most pain comes from those evils that never happened except in our imaginations.
9. Take things always by their smooth handles.
10. When angry, count ten before you speak; when very angry, count a hundred.

SAD DISILLUSION

"Tough luck for a pretty nurse."

"What happened to her?"

"While one of her patients was delirious he babbled continuously of his wealth."

"Just so."

"She married him and discovered later that he was worth, all told, about $12.80."

HARDSHIPS OF TRAVEL

"Boss, could yer give a dime to a flood sufferer?" asked the tramp.

"How could the floods have injured you?" said the cautious philanthropist. "I dare say you had no property to be destroyed."

"No, sir. But I was on me way up nort' an' freight trains has been so delayed by de high water dat dey ain't no tellin' when I'll reach me destination."

A BACHELOR BURGLAR

"Did you get the jewelry?" asked the outside man.

"Nope," replied the burglar. "I couldn't find it anywhere."

"Where did you look for it?"

"Searched her jewel case and every drawer in the bureau, and it wasn't there."

"Did you look to see if she had it on?"

"Yep. She was asleep, but she didn't have no rings on her fingers."

"Shucks, you don't know nothing about the way of women. Why didn't you go into the bathroom? You'd have found the whole outfit where she left it on the washstand."—Detroit Free Press.

A SHREWD WOMAN

"I am encouraging my husband to buy an automobile."

"They cost an awful lot."

"That's just it. If he pays $2500 for the kind he wants he won't be able to preach economy to me for quite a while."—Boston Transcript.

SO OFTEN TRUE

"I understood the text, all right," remarked Aunt Ann Peebles, after the sermon was over; "but the preacher's explanation of it puzzled me a good deal."

Frank—Oh, that's all right, dearie. You could go on wanting it after we were married.

IMMUNE

"I am delighted to meet you,' said the father of the college student, shaking hands warmly with the professor. "My son took algebra from you last year, you know."

"Pardon me," said the professor, "he was exposed to it, but he did not take it."—Christian Register.

IMPOSSIBLE

"Everybody wonders what I see in you."

"How can you expect to see anything in that hat?"

TRADE WILL MAKE PEACE

The philosopher and lover of man have much harm to say of trade; but the historian will see that trade was the spirit of liberty; that trade planted America and destroyed feudalism; that it makes peace and keeps peace, and will abolish slavery.—Emerson.

The most wonderful thing about the parable of the Prodigal Son is that it is our Lord's description of God—such a picture of fatherly love, tenderness and pardon as we never should have dared to paint for ourselves.—Forward.
